Lance O. Leider is an attorney representing health care providers on a wide range of professional issues. His practice focuses on the representation of health providers in litigation, licensing and disciplinary issues, contracts, appeals, administrative hearings, regulatory matters, and Medicare and Medicaid defense.

Mr. Leider licensed to practice in the state of Florida and is also admitted to the U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims.

Mr. Leider obtained his Bachelors of Arts Degrees in Philosophy and Political Science from the University of Florida, Gainesville.

Mr. Leider earned his J.D. degree summa cum laude from the Barry University, Dwayne O. Andreas School of Law in December 2011. He was the valedictorian of his class and served on the Editorial Board of the Barry Law Review as Lead Articles Editor. During law school Mr. Leider also served as a judicial intern to Judge Belvin Perry during the Casey Anthony trial. In 2016, he received his Master of Laws in Health Law from DePaul University School of Law.

As a result of his exceptional performance on the Florida Bar Exam, Mr. Leider was invited by the Fifth District Court of Appeal to address the new inductees being sworn in on May 8, 2012 in Daytona Beach.
